Manuál A-8

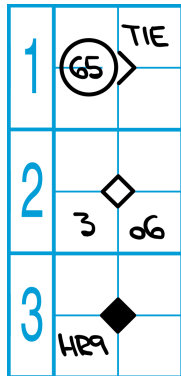

A run scored by the player starting as runner at second base shall be charged to the defensive team and not the pitcher and can therefore never be earned run. Whether a run scored by any other player shall be charged to the pitcher, is up to the judgment of the official scorer.

Manuál A-9

In case of a pitcher change at the beginning of the extra inning, it is very important to mark this change above the player starting as runner on base. The extra inning is supposed to lead to a game-winning run which determines the statistics to be awarded to the pitchers. A run scored by the player that started as runner in this extra inning, should be charged to the relief pitcher.
